

ABOUT THIS BOOK

Does a thriller have to be 40,000 plus words long to be a thriller is the question we answer in this collection. We don't believe that they have to in order to be worth the read. And we believe that once you read one short thriller you too will catch the fever as well.

We have assembled 15 short thrillers in this collection let us know which one wasn't worth the read and we'll punish the writer.

Oh! That would be us., me, myself and I. So don't get it twisted only the reader will know which one wrote which story when they finish reading it.

Here is volume 1 which includes 5 short story's: The Room, The Basement, The Stairwell, The Livingroom and the Elevator.
