

ABOUT THIS BOOK

Life in the big city can be good when you are a young, educated, and gainfully employed black American princess but evil is always lurking in the city's underbelly waiting to strike. This was the tragic reality Ebony Alexander experienced the night she left her cellphone at her favorite diner. Ebony a beautiful and strong young black woman's life was taken in a life and death struggle that ended with her being sexually violated, brutally murdered and left in the doorway of her favorite diner by a travelling serial rapist.

When her sisters learned of what had happened they each went into mourning in their own way, one decided to take the law into her own hands and just lashed out and before she knew it she had killed two innocent men. The older sister attempted to allow the justice system take its course but quickly became the system's worst freelance advocate and found herself not only covering up her middle sister's murders but plunging herself into the same ugly sinful life she wanted to avoid. The saving grace was she only killed the one who unleashed this series of tragic events on her family in self defense or was it?

Follow this intense crime and investigative thriller to find out the answer to the question is revenge as sweet a sin when it is justified or just a lie?
