

ABOUT THIS BOOK

A neighborhood playground activity destroyed a family and sent the wrong man to jail, when a couple of mobsters tried to build their own criminal empire.

This scheme sprung out of a make-shift basketball player sports betting ring. Inexperienced neighborhood basketball players were pitted against once was and former basketball pros who were looking to make some side money, as they re-lived their former youthful glory days, and reconfirmed their playground skills and reputation.

Available at amazon

.ONLINE