

ABOUT THIS BOOK

The theory behind this case started out as a tale of jealousy and a broken trust... someone in power, whose reputation was good...but for the lack of honesty and loyalty of others around him... brought him to the brink of destruction, broke and ostracized by loved ones and fellow confidants. But when the truth was revealed and those challenges overcome his reputation was restored and his relationships would be made whole again...but that is not how this case worked out.

This is a story about an aging business man trying to hold his financial legacy in place for his only son and his family but finds himself on the brink of losing everything because of plots by his trusted confidants who were only interested in building their own empires before the man's inheritance could be bestowed on his only heir.

These confidants (the victims corporate executives) not only conspired to kill the owner's only heir apparent, but they missed and killed the heir's wife and only child. Then on their second attempt they killed the wrong man an innocent bystander. Their third attempt resulted in them finding themselves in the crosshairs of U.S. Marshal Bailey. And as Marshal Bailey and his partner got closer to solving the case the list of suspects widen and all hell broke loose. When both of the owners key executives found themselves dead and no one saw the real killer coming even though they were standing in plain sight all along.
