

ABOUT THIS BOOK

This is a simple story about a murdered gambler whose father hires a retired cop to find his killer. Then it gets interesting when we realize we have a undercover U.S. Marshal being hunted by a rogue cop who is being followed by a team of assassins who are being followed by the rogue cops former partner who is chasing a vacationing CIA black ops agent who is following the rogue cop who is following the CIA agents twin brother.

Once the rogue cops partner catches up with the vacationing CIA black ops agent and finds himself dead, his employer is forced into a corner and wants to cut a deal to stay out of jail and kill as many of his detractors as possible. But before that can happen his mole the rogue cop winds up turning on him and he inherits the, ninth death award, in this made for TV miniseries entitled "9 men down before I die..."
