

ABOUT THIS BOOK

When two psychopaths' cross paths and one is a female serial killer, just like the other, a male serial killer, sparks fly. A woman is coming to surprise her former college roommate with a short stay while she interviews for a few new jobs but the male, her friend's boyfriend, doesn't want her to stay.

The boyfriend and the college friend meet outside the couple's high-end high rise apartment building. But when the friend is told that her former classmate will not accommodate her, she will not take no for an answer. That's when she begins to stalk him until he lets her in the apartment to show her that her former classmate is actually out on a vacation.

That's when things get interesting. The apartment is on a top floor of the high rise and later that evening the building collapses, but their apartment is still standing although unreachable by rescuers. While the two wait to be rescued they each plot to kill the other until they both finally realize they were already!

